He Has Prevalled Upon a Number of Insti-tutions and Private Hankeys to Make Uniform Bids for the Entire Issue, The efforts of President John A. Stewart of the United States Trust Company, the Wall street adviser of the Administration, to float the new Government loan are, according to all accounts, likely to be successful. Mr. Stewart, nowever, declined yesterday to confirm reports that he had prevalled upon a number of justitutions and private bankers to make uniform bids for the bonds that would in the aggregate cover the entire Issue. The bids, it is cover the entire issue. The bids, it is understood, are to be upon the basis that the gold to pay for the bonds will be obtained from sources other than the Treasury. The combination cannot properly be called a syndicate. Among those who are reported to be parties to it are the United States Trust Company, the National Bank of Commerce, the Park National Bank, Von Hoffman & Co., Speyer & Co., and J. & W. Seligman & Co. The bid price agreed upon could not be learned yesterday, but is probably a shade under a three per cent, basis. A number of banks and private bankers will bid for bonds independently of the combination mentioned, among them the Fourth and Chase National banks and Messra Kuhn, Loeb & Co. The two banks mentioned, the Chemical, the Bank of Commerce, the Park National Bank of New York, the American Exchange Bank, and possibly others will furnish certain of their larger customers with gold to pay for bonds should they be successful bidders. It is conservatively estimated that the New York bids for the bonds will aggregate fully $73,000,000, and the bids outside of this city will, according to present indications, foot up larger than those that were made for the last issue.

TREASURER MORGAN'S REPORT. Impairment of the Gold Reserve-Retire. ment of Tressury Notes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The Treasurer of the United States, the Hon. D. N. Morgan, has sub-mitted to Secretary Carilele his annual report. He says that the lowest point touched by the gold reserve was $52,189,500 on Aug. 7, 1894. Prior to July, 1802 for before the passage of the Sherman act), the gold reserve was but little affected by withdrawals of coin, there having pever been any considerable demand for the redemption of notes. Even when gold exports were heavy, the metal was furnished by bankers from their vaults or was obtained from the Treasury for gold certificates, of course without impairment to the reserve. During the last two years, however, the Treasury has been called upon to furnish nearly the whole of the requirements for exportation, and there have cently been considerable withdrawals for

With reference to the retirement of Treasury notes, the report says that prior to August, 1893, the Treasury had been able to provide for the redemption of Treasury notes in silver dollars out of the holdings of free silver, so that there had not been up to that time any impairment of the total amount of the silver fund accumulated under the act. On Aug. 3, however, the silver dollars and bullion in the Treasury had be-come reduced to the amount required by law to be retained for the payment of outstanding Treasury notes and certifi-cates, and the demand for the redemption outstanding Treasury notes and certificates, and the demand for the redemption of notes continuing in consequence of the scarcity of small denominations of currency, it became necessary to draw upon the dollars coined especially for that purpose. The silver fund being thus impaired, the notes so redeemed were cancelled, in order to preserve the required equality between the silver in the Treasury and the notes outstanding. The total amount of the notes retired in this way up to Oct. 21 was $4.790,434.

The amount of the new issues of United States paper currency put into circulation during the year was $150,059,100, having been exceeded but once, in 1892. The amount of worn and mutilated notes redeemed was $119,002,290. This also has been exceeded but once, in 1892. The total paper circulation reached its highest point in May last, when it stood at $1.175,000.000. Since then there has been a alight contraction, caused chiefly by the gradual redeimption and retirement of gold certificates, the issue of which was suspended, as the law requires, when the gold reserve of the Treasury fell below $100,000,000.

Notwithstanding a change in the regulations, whereby senders of national bank notes for retemption were required to bear the charges for transportation, the redemptions were the heaviest since 1886, amounting to $105,000,000,000, or more than half of the average circulation.

$30,000 in Gold Withdrawn from the WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. The Treasury lost today $50,000 in gold taken out by Charles Hathaway & Co. at the New York Sub-Treasury. This reduces the gold reserve to $57,902,000. The general Treasury balance is $100,411,000. A rumor was prevalent here to-day that a half dozen of the large New York national banks had agreed to furnish to private parties all the gold necessary for them to purchase bonds with No official information of this cheracter had been received at the Treasury at the close of business, but it would not surprise Treasury officials if such were done. ficials if such were done.

A number of bids have been received here for bonds, but their amount or price remains unknown, as the envelopes have not been opened and will not be until 12 M, on Saturday.

Senator Teller on the Bond Issue. DENVER, Nov. 22 .- Before leaving this city for Washington Senator Teller said, in regard to the new bond issue:

"In my opinion it is foolish to suppose that the issue of bonds tends to keep a large reserve the issue of bonds tends to keep a large reserve of gold in the Treasury, as the bonds are purchased with gold that has been withdrawn from the Treasury. If Mr. Cleveland would address himself to secure the proper amount of revenue to meet governmental expenses he would be doing something. I don't believe there is any system of finance that can bring general prosperity to the country that does not include the free use of silver with gold at the present Mist ratio of 16 to 1, or at the French ratio of 15% to 1. I believe, further, that the political party that will insure a return of that system will be the successful party in American politics."

SQUIRE PURDY'S CALLERS.

He Married Them, and Gave the Bride Ad vice and Four-fifths of His Fee.

WHITE PLAINS, Nov. 22 .- A young man and young woman called on Justice of the Peace Ritiah Purdy at his home here last evening and asked him to marry them. They said they were Horsce J. Hill and Alice Clara McKeon of New York. The Squire said that as the step they were about to take was important it would be necessary for them to answer several questions before he would consent to marry them. They said they had come to White Plains to get married to avoid notoriety.

To the question, "Do your parents approve your marriage?" Mr. Hill answered, "We are ragainst swell weddings and the popularity attached to them. We desire a private ceremony, and have consulted only ourselves." The Squire called in his venerable wife and his son Harry as witnesses. Then Miss McKeon became Mrs. Hill. Horace J. Hill and Alice Clara McKeon of New

The Squire then remarked, in a fatherly tone:

"Let me say, Mr. Hill, should your wife be tardy in rising and you should have water for breakfast, instead of coffee, that you are to frubibe it without words of represent. Mrs. Hill, to you I would say that " if an executive session of the club detains your husband over hours, it is not a legal or just cause for faultfinding. Do this and you will always be happy."

As the pair were about to leave the bride-groom said: "Judge, to what extent am I indebted to you?"

"Oh, yes," said the Squire. "In all cases of this kind my fee is $20, and I always make the bride is present." Hill opened a fat pocketbook and taking out two bills, a five and a twenty, handed them to the Squire, who stapped over to the bride and putting the bill of the larger denomination in her hand, said: "Place that where it will be of the most benefit."

The bridegroom insisted on the Squire taking all the money as his fee, but the Squire taking all the money as his fee, but the Squire taking all the money as his fee, but the Squire taking the money as his fee, but the Squire taking all the money as his fee, but the Squire tool his bride left the house to take the $4.05 Pittsfield express for New York, saving that they would start on a night train for the West.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. Several chiefs be onging to the Sloux and Arapahoe tribes of Inlians, who are here for the purpose of securing diversion of their funds in order to irrigate their lands, were entertained to-night by Com-missioner Browning and Major Seeley of the Fenth Cavalry by a visit to the performance of showman Herrmann at Albaugh's. The magi-cian's tricks made a great impression on the indians, who congratulated themselves that they, instead of their young bucks, whose hearts were not, had beheld the myste-ries, and after the performance, when they were taken to the pressure of the prestidigitateur, they met him with profound awe and reneva-tion, expressing the opinion that he was the greatest of "madicine men." THREE $6,000 PLUMS LEFT.

If Mayor Cilroy Should Deelds to Appoint Commissioners of Records,

It was discovered yesterday that Mayor Gilrov has still at his disposal before he leaves office three very nice patronage plums if he wishes to make the appointments. Mayor Grant had the same places to fill in the latter part of his term of office and did not fill them, and they never have been filled. Chapter 412 of the Laws of 1802 created the Board of Commissioners of Records in this city for the purpose of extending and perfecting the block index system of records in all the departments of the city and county. By the provisions of the law the Board was to be composed of "Frank T. Fitzgerald. the present Register," and two other Commisthe present Register," and two other Commissioners. It was provided that the Mayor might fill all vacancies, and Mr. Fitzgeraid, who was elected Additional surrogate in 1802, promptly resigned, so that the Mayor was empowered to appoint three Commissioners. The term provided is five years from the passage of the actaithough there was a provision for fits extension for an additional five years by the filing of an order to that effect by the Mayor in his own office.

To render the appointment of any effect there must be provision by the Board of Estimate for the three $6,000 salaries of the Commissioners and the expenses of their office. The offices have never been filled because the two Mayors considered them superfluous. THE CLARIFICATION CLUB.

that he was in the race to stay. Mr. Nixon said he had been informed on excellent authority that the Republican members from New York were unpledged. That means that there is no candidate who has a cinch upon the Speakership just yet. Mr. Nixon left Buffalo last night for a tour of the State, especially the southern tier and New York and Kings counties.

The only move in the direction of selecting a candidate that has been made by the members from Eric and western New York in general is the selection of one week from Saturday, Dec. 1, as the date when all the members from western New York will meet in conference and come to some definite understanding as to the person hey will support. This conference will be held in Hochester, and it is said that Mr. Nixon will be the man selected.

FORGOTTEN FOR 17 YEARS. The $15,000 Left by W. C. Herring Now Being Fought Over.

By the accidental discovery of some old paper in the Surrogate's office, a fortune of about $15,000, the existence of which was forgotten, was discovered, and it has become the subject of quite extensive litigation, at the same time recalling a little episode which made New York society tattle fifty years ago. In 1846 William C. Herring, a brother of the late Thomas H. Herring, one time President of the New Jersey Senate, and of Silas G. Herring. founder of the Herring Safe Company, married a preffy norse maid named Honorah V. Foley, and sailed immediately for England. Mr. Herring at that time was a widower well advanced in years. He had been a dry goods merchant in this city and was considered to be quite wealthy.

His marriage was a great shock to his family His marriage was a great shock to his family which was increased by the fact that his wife was a Roman Catholic, and was the means of converting him to that faith. Mr. Herring died in London in 1862. By his will, made he 1853, the left to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum in Albany, his native town, $1,000; to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum. Of this city, to the poor of St. Peter's Church on Barclay street, to the Hisman Catholic Home for the Aged of London, and the convent in Culincireen, county Kerry, Ireland, each the same amount. To the poor schools attached to St. Patrick's Church, Soho, London, he left $2,000. The rest of the property, personal and real, he left to his wife, and made her sole executrix. But before she had time to probate the will she cited, and in 1863 the testator's brother. Thomas H. Herring, had the will probated and was appointed administrator. Shortly after he filed an inventory, showing that the estate consisted of 100 shares of railroad stock worth $4,180, and some stocks in the Bowery Insurance Company, the amount and value of which he did not know.

Thomas Herring died in 1874, without having notified the legaless of the money that had been left to them. For seventeen years the estate lay forgottem. In 1801 the inventory was accidentally found among the files in the Surrogate's office, and the interested parties were notified. Elisha H. Pratt of Fairview, N. J., a bephew of the testator, qualified as administrator. A thorough examination of the estate was nade, and it was found that it was worth between $15,000 and $20,000. The religious institutions, through their attorneys, Edward J. Mediean and Turner, McClure and Rolston, brought suit to compel Pratt to settle. He pleaded the statute of limitations, but the Surrogate everruled it. He has now, through his attorneys, Hascali, Clarke & Vander Poel, asked the Supreme Court for instructions, alleging that the gifts were too vaguely worded, and that the statute of limitations could make it illegals for him to pay the legales.

He signs himself Col. Starberry Fairfax, but that name does not appear in the directory, nor is it known to any of the Virginians or Kentuckians who would be likely to have an ac-rect the envelope. The letters are all unitorm, and read as follows:

DEAR MADAME: The constant expression of sympathy which is manifested throughout the country for that distinguished but marryred statesman of Kentucky, the Hot. W. C. P. Breckinstyde, suggests the people of the lead should have an opportunity of hearing his eloquent defence of religion and morality. In response to vehement calls from the women of America, it has been deemed what the passe him upon the lecture platform. It is intended to have him because in the principal either the women of a north of mational patronesses, one repentiative lady from such as been augmented for the city of Washington, and the best heart from your first of the city of Washington, and the seem suggested for the city of Washington, and the seem suggested for the first of the washington, and the best has been augmented for the city of Washington, and the best has in the will be printed as a membra show bills throughout the country. THE UNFORTUNATE ERICSSON Another Minhap with the Mississippi Rive Built Torpeds Boat.

New London, Nov. 22.-Misfortune follow the torpedo boat Ericsson, which has now bee here nearly ten weeks waiting to get a spee run before being accepted by the Governme This morning, at 5:26 o'clock, she got awa from her wharf and soudded away for th course in the darkness. The run out was comparatively smooth water, with a light wi from the westward, conditions that bade fair to end the tedious efforts to make a speed record. She had reached the course at Strat to end the tedious efforts to make a specific record. Shie had reached the course at Strate ford, and while steaming at a fair page the state board air pump broke, and all possibility of a speed run vanished.

The Ericason put about, returning here, where she must again repair. This is the fourth time the Ericason put about, returning here, where she must again repair. This is the fourth time the Ericason has been forced to abandon the trial after reaching the course.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The torpedo boat Ericason has falled on her third attempt at an official trial trip. Acting Becretary McAdod this morning received from Commander Selfvidge, Chairman of the Trial Board, the following telegram:

Broke starboard air-pump. Running at time 23 knots.

Naval officers think that this settles the face that the Ericason is badly handled and that she cannot be expected to succeed until her crew is changed. The speed the vessel must make is 24 knots, and her breakdown at 28-knots speed sufficiently indicates in naval officers opinion that somothing is wrong on the little boat. Naval engineers assert that the vessel has demonstrated her ability to make 24 knots under proper management, and assert that if a regular naval crew should be substituted for the Mississippi River men now in charge the Ericsson would make an acceptable record. It is likely that the Navy Department will refuse to permit any further trials under the present management. Half a dozen ships, including the Cincinnati and Dolphin, have been kept at considerable expense for two weeks attending the trials. It is thought that the trial Board will return to Washington for consultation with Secretary Herbert.

A New Organization of Cricket Clube. As announced in THE SUN some time ago, there is to be another organization of cricket clubs apart from the Hetropolitan District Cricket League, which for the past five years has been the governing body for the cricketers of the metropolis. It was not expected that the new affair would assume shape so early, but it was meeting of the League in the spring. G. Hake of the Harlem C. C. was appointed secretary pro tem. of the movement, and a meeting was held to consider the movement, and a meeting was held to consider the initial plans of the organization. This was attended by representatives from the Harlem, Columbia, Kings County, St. George, and St. George's A. C., and it was unantmously agreed to form the New York Cricket Association. It was especially noted that the new association was not brought about on account of diseast infaction with the Netropolitan League, but the later organization was thought to be too large, on the later organization was thought to be too large, but the later organization was thought to be too large, but the later organization was thought to be too large.

The property of the Association will be need to draw up a constitution, which will the appeared to draw up a constitution, which will the appeared to draw up a constitution, which will the appeared to draw up a constitution, which will the annual meeting in March, and they expect to get a share of the funds in the League treasury.

Some of the first section clubs have for a long time been disastained with the number of clubs in the League, and it is quite probable that the organization will prevent this in the future by limiting its members disastained with the number of clubs in the League, and it is quite probable that the organization will prevent this in the future by limiting its members disastained with the number of clubs in the large exhedule for all concerned, and give the clubs which desire to meet teams from Philadelphia and other places a chance to arrange such matches.

Peter Jackson's Plans.

Jackson is undecided as to how long he will remain in England. The famous colored boxer's plans are outlined in the following article, which appears in the London Sporting Life of Nov. 10: "Work renowned and ever-popular Peter Jackson paid a visit to the Sporting Life office yesterday purely in pursuit to the Sporting Life office yesterday purely in pursuit of pleasure. Differing Views of the Deputies About the Wisdom of Going to War. Paris, Nov. 22 .- In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Paschal Grousset, Radical, moved that the debate on the question of granting a credit and sanctioning the expedition to Madagascar be adjourned until the general situation could be studied carefully. The motion was de-feated by the overwhelming majority of 360. M. Jourdan, Socialist, opposed the motion, and

There has been a persistent hunt for the criminal, and the detectives arrested Clara Ford, a mulatto tailor, on Tuesday evening, charging her with having committed the crime. On Wednesday the girl had a preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate Dennison, and when the charge had been read to her she astounded bench, har, and spectators by pleading guilty, but later changed her plea to not guilty. At the instance of the Crown Prosecutors a week's adjournment was had, and the girl was remanded to prison.

One theory is that the girl was angered by a paragraph in a local paper attributed to young Westwood, calling attention to the masquereding of a girl in male attire, a freak which Clara Ford, In 1888 she donned bey's clothes and worked in a Chicago livery stable as hostler and man-of-all-work. Later, in the same city, she was a hack driver and coachman. She also joined the Anglican choir of St. Luke's church in that city, and still in male attire was about to be haptized when she was recognized by a former resident of Toronto, who informed the pastor. In this city, after her work, she almost nightly donned male attire, and was the subject of much comment in the neighborhood of her boarding house. The belief is that the detective force has secured a confession from the girl, the extent and nature of which will only be made public when the preliminary trial takes place on the 28th inst.
